Designed by the talented architectural team of Bill Robinson and Les Furber, The Canyon Course offers 6,802 yards that play past cheering throngs of Ponderosa pines and route in and around a steep canyon. The ninth tee presents one of the best views of the day: of a stream winding through the canyon bottom way below. And you may need some luck, as three par fives cluster around the turn between holes nine and twelve.

Step up to Gallagher's Canyon, an elevated golf experience.

An adventure in contrasts, the manicured fairways and stately pines beautifully juxtapose themselves against the rugged, rocky charms of the Canyon.

From the back tees they all stretch to more than 500 yards. Gallagher's closing holes present vertical poplar and pine tree hazards to challenge the route to the final greens. Liquid rewards await on the clubhouse deck.

The Canyon Bar & Grill welcomes groups of all ages with amazing food, professional service, and a variety of Okanagan wines. Call us for your next party or event!

George Orwell might have loved our 9-hole Pinnacle Course, a par 32 design that stretches to 1,984 yards. Built to the same exacting standards as its "big brother," the clever Pinnacle layout should prove more welcoming to less experienced players. It also constitutes an ideal practice course and provides the perfect venue for settling matches not decided on the Canyon Course.
